Bouvard and Pécuchet Gustave Flaubert

"Bouvard and Pécuchet" is a satirical work by Gustave Flaubert.

"Bouvard and Pécuchet" details the adventures of two Parisian copy-clerks, François Denys Bartholomée Bouvard and Juste Romain Cyrille Pécuchet, of the same age and nearly identical temperament. They meet one hot summer day in 1838 by the canal Saint-Martin and form an instant, symbiotic friendship.

When Bouvard inherits a sizable fortune, the two decide to move to the countryside. They find a large property near the town of Chavignolles in Normandy. Their search for intellectual stimulation leads them, over the course of years, to flounder through almost every branch of knowledge.

Flaubert uses their quest to expose the hidden weaknesses of the sciences and arts, as nearly every project Bouvard and Pécuchet set their minds on comes to grief. Their endeavours are interleaved with the story of their deteriorating relations with the local villagers; and the Revolution of 1848 is the occasion for much despondent discussion. The manuscript breaks off unfinished near the end of the novel.

As a scholar exactly feel bored to be able to reading. If their teacher questioned them to go to the library or make summary for some reserve, they are complained. Just minor students that has reading's soul or real their interest. They just do what the professor want, like asked to the library. They go to generally there but nothing reading seriously. Any students feel that reading through is not important, boring along with can't see colorful photos on there. Yeah, it is to become complicated. Book is very important for you. As we know that on this age, many ways to get whatever we really wish for. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore this Bouvard and Pécuchet can make you really feel more interested to read.
